Shalom Y'all,

When I write welcome notes to new members, I always refer to the Temple Beth Shalom family. Each and every one of us is a part of this family. All of us have equal voices, wants and desires. This, of course, does include the Boxt family. For the first time in my career as a rabbi, I find myself part of a congregational family that truly includes my family – from those checking in on us after we dropped Carlie off at college to those who brought cards and a cake in honor of Batya's birthday. Temple Beth Shalom is a wonderful family – and each and every one of us should feel blessed.

We are now in the month of Elul, the period in which we think about the previous year, the mistakes we made, and the changes we would like to make to be better selves in the future. What I am focusing on this month is looking inwardly at the ways in which I may be a better person, friend, father, husband, and rabbi. Sometimes, being a rabbi is very lonely. This is one of the main reasons why I go to CCAR conventions and why I work at Camp Coleman (with my colleagues/friends) every year.

One of the challenges I face as your rabbi is recognizing the need for boundaries. I will admit it has been hard over my career to set these boundaries. For example, when I write poetry and/or prayers about personal experiences, such as my Mom's birthday on August 22, I have to understand the difference between being a "friend" and/or being "friendly." After all, I am an employee of Temple Beth Shalom – regardless of how close I become to the members of this amazing family.

What I can say for sure is we have found our home – our family here in Ocala, Florida. As time moves on, and our relationships deepen with you, I am still your rabbi, and I need to be able to be the rabbi you need and expect of me. This is my challenge – and one I am absolutely blessed to face every day. As we approach the new year, 5785, let me share with you one of my prayers:

Open your eyes today and look around.
See every nook and cranny present in the world.
Make sure you do not miss even the smallest detail.
Observe all that you may have missed before.

Listen with open ears to every sound present.
Hear the birds, the insects, the distant sounds of children.
Take it all in - even the sounds that may have seem annoying before.
Perceive what each sound means to you, today.

As the High Holy Days approach, I have been thinking about gratitude. We generally think of the month of Elul as a time of introspection and forgiveness. These practices are not easy, but I have found that gratitude makes these difficult tasks easier.

Acts of loving kindness, “gemilut hasadim,” not only bring gratitude and joy to the recipient, but to the giver as well. Visiting someone who is ill, bringing them a healing meal, or simply holding their hand makes the person feel loved. Doing acts of loving kindness can make you feel grateful for being able to help someone in need. Donating to food banks helps so many people who are struggling and inspires gratitude in those who receive the food and those who provide it. This Yom Kippur we will have our annual food collection for Interfaith.

As you prepare for this High Holy Day season I hope you will find meaning and joy in practicing gratitude. I am grateful for all of you.

Speaking of gratitude, as you all know, our piano is old, missing keys, etc. Please join me in thanking the following donors for purchasing a new piano: Jay & Janet Kreisman, Wayne & Raelynn Omel, Raoul Garfinkel & Dale Berman, Susan Ahern, Rochelle Brauman, and Mary Ann Bongiorno.

Please welcome our newest members:

Reach out and touch something different.
Feel the bark on the tree or the grass under your feet.
Sense the significance of everything present.
Experience the texture of all you see, everywhere you look.

Smell the grass, the landscape, the flowers.
Get a whiff of strange new smells that are present.
Sniff the world, one smell at a time.
Detect, really identify the smells, the strange and the usual.

Taste the air - oh so wonderful to take that next breath.
Savor something new - perhaps something you have been afraid to taste.
Relish in what you have always loved, the familiar.
Distinguish the tastes of one thing from another.

WOMEN OF REFORM JUDAISM

Sisterhood News by Betsy Brody

Nosh & Nibbles

For more information
cindyandlarrystone@gmail.com

In August Sisterhood held a successful “getting to know you” gathering for new members to meet the established membership. Traditionally, there is an open membership meeting only every other month, so there is no meeting scheduled for September. The women are busy preparing a mostly home baked Oneg Shabbat for the Friday between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur and planning a very open meeting for October 13.

ATTENTION ALL: On Sunday, October 13 at 2 PM Sisterhood will present an open meeting for everyone. There will be a speaker from the League of Women Voters who will give the pros and cons and answer questions about the six (6) State Constitutional Amendments on the ballot. The League is a political but totally non-partisan organization and the speaker will not give an opinion or advise how to vote, but hopefully when you have left the meeting you will have a better idea of the facts involved and be able to make up your own mind. Save the date on your calendar and plan to be there.

INTERFAITH DINNERS

Dinners were provided during the summer by Kay Fleischaker in July, Nancy Miner in August and Roxanne and Michael Baron in September. I am delighted to say thank you, “Toda Raba” to each of them from the bottom of my heart. In October, because the first Wednesday is “Erev Rosh Hashanah”, the Rochlins have offered to provide the money directly to Interfaith for the staff to purchase dinner so that none of us will have to interrupt our holy day preparation to bring the food. To them another major thank you!

The job is not difficult. It is easier if done with others. It can be fun and is usually fulfilling and rewarding. It is always appreciated by the residents of the shelter at Interfaith. If you have never provided a dinner please consider signing up to do one. All dates are taken through 2024 but no one has signed up for 2025 yet, so you can have your pick of dates. Temple Beth Shalom is responsible for providing dinner on the first Wednesday of every month and we have been doing this for more than 25 years. Please consider taking a date. contact Betsy Brody for details [352-347-5597 or esb501@yahoo.com]. Betsy provides whatever paper supplies you don't have. and will give you a sheet with guidelines and instructions.

There has been some confusion about DIRECTED donations at Temple Beth Shalom. Sisterhood's Bimah Flower/camp scholarship fund goes only to honor Simchot. The Temple's Tree of Life also goes only for Simchot.

Sisterhood sells Uniongrams, has YES Fund cards and TREE certificates for trees in Israel which can be purchased for Simchas or remembrance. The Temple has prayer book dedications and accepts contributions to many funds which can be made for any type of occasion. The Temple also has Memorial Plaques and accepts Yahrzeit donations only in remembrance of a deceased loved one. Members who wish to donate for something specific must select one of the appropriate destinations for their money.

Help wanted

We have many committees and programs in need of volunteers. Share some of your time and make our Temple stronger. If you have time or expertise to share, See Julie Rochlin to find out how you can help.

BOOK CLUB

The Temple Book Club met August 21 at the home of Joan Brand to discuss the book "Delicious" by Ruth Reichl. The book takes place in conjunction with the publication of a food magazine, similar to "Gourmet Magazine", for which the author had been the editor.

It involves something for everyone from mystery to romance and business. Everyone enjoyed it and all recommend it to anyone who has not yet read it.

The next book, "Not Our Kind", by Kitty Zeldis will be discussed at the home of Betsy Brody on Wednesday, October 16 at 10:30 AM. If you are interested in joining our group, read the book and call for directions. Everyone is welcome.
